The Program of 2008 International James Joyce Conference

<Invitation>

We are pleased and honored to invite you to the 2008 Seoul International Conference on James Joyce, which will be held on September 27, 2008 at Sungkyunkwan University, Seoul, Korea. This conference is jointly organized by the James Joyce Society of Korea and the Brain Korea 21 Integrated English Linguistics and Literature Specialist Education Program of Sungkyunkwan University. And the conference is, in part, sponsored by the Embassy of Ireland in Korea. With the theme “Glocalizing Joyce: East Asian & Other Perspectives,” it is composed of one keynote lecture and six presentations by well-known Joyce scholars from the United Kingdom and East Asian countries. Each paper will discuss literary, theoretical, and sociocultural issues pertaining to a wide range of the Joycean texts from East Asian perspectives. As this is the third Seoul conference, we hope it would be an occasion to generate a scholarly community of Joyceans in the region of East Asia. We are sure this academic event will be rewarding and inspiring to all the participants and audiences.
